Sergei Aleksandrovich Yesenin, Russian Poet Britannica
May 29th, 2020 - Sergei Aleksandrovich Yesenin, also spelled Esenin, was born on October 3, 1895, in Konstantinovo, Ryazan Province, Russia. He died on December 27, 1925, in Leningrad. The self-styled last poet of wooden Russia, whose dual image that of a devout and simple peasant singer and that of a rowdy and blasphemous exhibitionist reflects his tragic maladjustment to the changing world,

Songs based on Yesenin's poems: Balalike It Russia Beyond
May 17th, 2020 - On September 21, October 3, 1895, one of Russia's most beloved poets was born in the village of Konstantinovo in the Ryazan province. Sergei Yesenin started to write in his youth. His love for nature is one of the first places we can say that it is the main component of his work. Practically in every masterpiece of his work, the reader can notice beautiful and at the same time unusual descriptions of Russian nature.

10 Must Know Poets That Russians Love: Trip
May 25th, 2020 - Yesenin was born into a simple serf family. He received his education at a church run school and later continued to study at university in Moscow. The collection of poems he wrote during his lifetime includes "The Wild Child of Russian Imagists." These poems are a reflection of the romanticism of the Russian soul that is quintessential to the poetry of Esenin. They include poems that will make you long for merry thieves and desperate rascals, white groves, and fields of grass.

Sergei Esenin Russian Poems in Translations
May 24th, 2020 - Yesenin was perhaps the most Russian poet of all time. For the poetry of no one else was so formed from the rustling of birch trees, the soft pitter of raindrops on thatched roofs, the neighing of horses in mist-filled morning meadows, from the clanking of bells on cows' necks, from the swaying of chamomile and cornflower, from the singing in the outskirts of villages.

Romantic Poems About Love and Passion: Poetry From Russia
May 28th, 2020 - A collection of selected poems by Sergei Yesenin. The book runs parallel verses in Russian and translated into English. It includes: "10 Must Know Poets That Russians Love: Trip." The farewell poem of the Russian poet, which he wrote in his own blood after he cut his wrists at age 30, and hanged himself from the ceiling of a Leningrad hotel room, is available for following.

Klyuev Selected Poems: Don Mager
March 4th, 2019 - Klyuev's lament for Sergei Esenin is the longest and most powerful of the tributes to Esenin. It fuses nostalgia for rural life and nature, Russian myth, history, and legend. Personal grief culminates in a delicate lyrical coda that weaves images from earlier sections into a haunting song.
